

It said that there is a white man in the Greensboro jail that can hold molten lead in his mouth until it cools without experiencing any pain whatever.

COME TO THEMSELVES.—The Southern Home says: We have received several letters lately from North Carolinians, some from the far West and some from the far South, saying that they are about to take in leaving the good old North State.

Some sacrilegious wretches or wretches on horseback entered St. Augustine church (colored Episcopal) in this city, and stole therefrom a surplice, organ cover, clock, and a kerosene lamp.—Raleigh Sentinel.

Says the Newbern Journal of Commerce: We learn that Hon. O. C. Clark, President of the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad, has been elected a director of the city. Directors of that road, to be held in this city on Friday, 29th inst.

The Asheville Citizen says: Considerable excitement exists in Cherokee county on account of the discovery of a rich vein of silver. If the reports that reach us be true, Mexico, Colorado and California are to where.

Two prisoners, one white and the other colored, escaped from the Green county jail on Friday night last. The white one was captured and recaptured. The negro was fired upon by the sheriff and was so badly injured that he died on the following Tuesday.

The Raleigh Sentinel says: Rev. Father McNamara, pastor St. John's (Catholic) Church, in this city, is, we learn, about to publish a pamphlet in reply to a treatise upon slavery recently published and issued by Rev. Dr. Fritchard, pastor of the Baptist church, of this city.

The Rockingham Observer has been favored by a friend with an extract from a letter, recently received from an intelligent gentleman in Wilmington, in which the writer states that he learns from Mr. Cronly, the president of the Company, that the necessary financial arrangements have been made, by which the completion of the road is secured.

THE KUKLUX THIEFS.—At 12 o'clock yesterday the government closed the testimony in the case of R. A. Shotwell and others, and the counsel for the defence announced that they would introduce no evidence. The court then took a recess until Monday. The argument commenced—Geo. V. Strong, Esq., opening for the defence, to be followed by S. F. Phillips, Esq., and then Hon. T. C. Fuller would close for the defence. We go to the Raleigh Sentinel for the details of the argument.—Raleigh Sentinel, 20th.

FORGERY.—On Friday night, H. H. Roberts, county clerk, and a clerk in the auditor's office, were arrested by Deputy Sheriff Magnin, charged with forgery. It seems that Roberts, on or about the 8th of August, presented a warrant to the treasurer of the board of education. D. J. Jenkins, county clerk, was the auditor, the auditor, Henderson Adams, endorsed by F. C. Allen, treasurer of Anson county, to pay him (Allen) the sum of $250. For various reasons the treasurer, D. A. Jenkins, suggested the whole matter was a forgery, and he consulted with Mr. Allen. He ascertained his suspicions to be fully realized, besides other previous irregularities on the part of Roberts had caused him to be an object of suspicion to the officers in the treasury department before this matter transpired. Roberts had a hearing before Saturday at noon Roberts had a hearing before Justice Whitaker, who, after hearing the testimony in the matter, bound the accused over to the court in the sum of $1,000. Judge Merriam appointed the 11th of September for the trial before the State. Up to this writing, Roberts was still in custody, having failed to give the required bond. We did not notice this matter on Saturday in deference to the wishes of some of the friends of the accused.—Raleigh Sentinel.

MELANCHOLY SUICIDE.—We learn from a reliable source that the death of a young lady, the victim of an amiable and kind friend, Mrs. Sarah Fancutt, a very worthy lady residing in Martin township, in Alamance county: Mrs. Fancutt was a lady of great respectability and highly esteemed in the neighborhood where she resided. She was the mother of a family of five children, and upon a estate which she owned near Haw River. It had been known for a considerable length of time that she had been laboring under great mental excitement, but her friends had not thought that she seriously contemplated suicide. She had, although she had frequently assured them that she would. On Monday morning, the 11th of September, she was missed from her room at a very early hour, and on search being made she was found hanging from a beam in the barn. She was dead, although she was still warm. The neighbors were immediately notified, and the body taken down and carried to the house. The coroner was summoned and an inquest held, but failed to reach any conclusion. In regard to the causes which impelled her to the rash act, a letter was produced written on Tuesday, the 5th inst., in which she stated that she had been seduced and ruined by a man by the name of John Ireland, who had threatened to kill her by force and threats, and that she could not survive her loss of honor and character, and took her life to hide her shame.—Raleigh Sentinel.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT.—The case of the U. S. against B. A. Shotwell and others from Rutherford, on a charge of conspiracy, was called on for trial. The whole day was consumed in argument on preliminary motions. On the affidavit of F. A. Shotwell, Calvin Teer and William Tanner that they could not proceed to trial without certain witnesses, the government admitted the affidavits and they go to trial.

Gov. Bragg moved that the court quash the 1st and 3d counts of the indictment on the ground of insufficiency and vagueness. The 3d count he would pass over for the present. This motion was argued by Mr. Bragg, by Geo. V. Strong and Geo. V. Strong, Esq., for the defendants, and by Mr. Phillips for the government. The substance of the argument on this and other motions that followed will appear hereafter. The court refused the motion of Gov. Bragg to quash the 1st motion which, in one respect, was a challenge of the array—on the ground of the irregular manner in which it was selected and summoned, and the alleged fact which he offered to prove, if permitted, that the republicans were the most violent partizans—large numbers of them being selected from counties in which party feeling ran high and these exclusively republicans.

This motion was argued by Gov. Bragg and Mr. Phillips, until 2 o'clock p. m., when the Court took a recess till 2 p. m., when Mr. Fuller was to address the Court in support of the motion. We will give hereafter as full reports of the argument on these several motions and of the trial, as our space will permit.—Raleigh Sentinel.

The annual Kehukee Baptist Association will be held this year at Lawrence Church, in Edgecombe county, beginning on Saturday, the 30th inst. The Southern Home says:

There are requested to announce the ministers and visiting members from North and South will be met at the T.

Depot on Thursday and Friday providing ample accommodations for carrying them to the Association grounds. The Contentnea Association will be held at the Town Creek Church in Edgemoor the next week.

POPULATION OF NORTH CAROLINA.—We understand obligations to Hon. Francis A. Walker, Superintendent of Census, for the advance sheets of the "Ninth Census of the United States—Statistics of Population." These sheets comprise 299 pages of the "Population Volume of the Ninth Census," and embrace the following tables:

No. 1.—By States and Territories, as whites, free colored, slave, Chinese, and Indians, in the decades 1870 to 1790, inclusive. No. 2.—By counties, as white, &c., 1870 to 1790, inclusive. No. 3.—By civil divisions less than counties, as native and foreign born whites and colored; in 1870; and white and colored in 1850 and 1860. No. 4.—General nativity, 1870–1860–1850, and foreign parentage, 1870. In these three valuable advance sheets given the complete census of the United States in its most minute details.

From these sheets we compile the following statement of the census of North Carolina, 1870 :

North Carolina ranks 14th of the States in population. New York being highest, or No. 1. In 1790 our State stood No. 3, Virginia and Pennsylvania alone above us respectively 1 and 2, whilst New England ranked 5th, her population being over 340,120, against 393,751, the population of North Carolina. In 1800, 1810, 1820, 1830, 1840, 1850, 1860, 1870, we were No. 6; in 1880, No. 12; and in 1890, as above stated, No. 14.

Total population, 1870, 1,071,364
Classed as follows :
Colored, 678,470
Indian, 391,650
Foreign born, 1,241
Total aggregate, 1,071,361

The aggregate divided as follows :
Total aggregate population, 1,071,361
Male, 1,068,332
Female, 3,029
One or both parents foreign, 4,664
Having foreign father, 6,148
Having foreign mother, 4,644
Having foreign father and foreign mother, 4,328
Total, 1,092,945

These figures, except the footing up, we make from Table IV., and it will be seen that they foot up 21,584 more than the aggregate population of the South. There is no explanation of this discrepancy in the classification above given, for those of the third class, "having one or both parents foreign," must necessarily be included in the three classes that follow. If this be so, there are unable to understand the result.—Bat. Sentinel.

Southern Railroad Congress.
The railroad meetings which were advertised to take place at different points between Statesville, N. C., to Danville, Va., in the interest of the Dan River and Coalfields railroads, have been postponed.—The Baltimore Times writes on the 4th inst. that it thinks is the matter, to wit :
These meetings were called by friends of the scheme, who expected to receive the aid of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company; but in the meantime the directors of the latter company had decided from Charlotte to Statesville was withheld and its President (Johnson) turned out. It is generally believed that this was the work of that giant corporation which seems to be extending its iron arms all over the United States, and whose purpose is to penetrate deep as the sea. We mean the Pennsylvania Central. Thus it appears that if its powerful rival, the Baltimore and Ohio, has any aspirations of reaching down further South by Danville and Winchester, it has been beaten by the Pennsylvania Central getting in their rear.
But is the great railroad king Garrett to balk in that way? and must he abandon his grand idea of securing the principal products of the great cotton country for export? No, he is not the man to suffer a rival to walk over the course without a struggle. There is another outlet for him at Danville—a splendid opening—a field scarcely less inviting than that which is secured by the road to Washington. He can shake hands with the president of the road from Fayetteville to the coal fields in Chatham county, N. C. Let them build a road from here to Deep River, and, it is thought by some, it would penetrate a country equal in fertility to the Valley of the Yadkin. Put your finger on Danville and draw a line to the gulf on Deep River, then go to Fayetteville, and from Fayetteville to Florence, S. C. (80 miles,) and we have the shortest and most direct route between Washington and the entire South. In that way can both these huge bodies be accommodated, and Danville and the whole country benefited."

Over-doctored.

Without any disrespect to the members of the medical profession, a profession honored by thinking men, it is only just to say that there are to be taken in the ground. The consequence is that the community is rendered very much weaker. While nature cures only the gentlest and most salutary, which has become rare throughout the domain of a rational medicine under the name of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, is not infrequently done with a dozen prescriptions, all experimental from the Pharmacopoeia. This is an evil, and a protest that the practice of medicine is far from being a science, a healing art. At this period of the year, when the fall of the leaf indicates that disease has seized upon the vegetable kingdom, and harassing diseases are prevalent, chief among these may be mentioned intermittent fever as biliousness. The exhalations rising from decomposing vegetable and animal matter, and fogs, are very apt to generate these complaints. The wisest policy is to protect the system by a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters at the commencement of the fall. No suffering may thereby be avoided. But if disease has already begun, its progress will be retarded by the use of the Bitters. It is a powerful, agreeable, vegetable tonic, and its use is yet harmless, vegetable tonic.

But be on your guard against the charlatans who are attempting to palm off, under various names, unwholesome compounds, which they pretend to cure; are favorably with the medicinal elixir, which has long since swept the formidable opposition from the field. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is authenticated by a splendid engraved label, and a fac simile of the signature of the firm. Put up in bottles only, it cannot be obtained in bulk.
